Biographical Information for

HAROLD W. BECKER

Author of

Internal Power: Seven Doorways to Self Discovery,
Unconditional Love – An Unlimited Way of Being,
Unconditional Love Is... Appreciating Aspects of Life
Inspiring Unconditional Love – Reflections from the Heart
Inspiring Unconditional Love 2 – More Reflections from the Heart
& Unconditional Love, A Guide to Personal Freedom (video)

Harold W. Becker has dedicated his life to living and sharing the practical application of unconditional love. Since 1990, his consulting company, Internal Insights, has its focus to "empower people through self awareness and unconditional love." In 2000 he founded the globally recognized non-profit, The Love Foundation, Inc., with the intent to "inspire people to love unconditionally." He blends incredible insight and intuition with humor, compassion and kindness, for a strong inspirational vision in all of his endeavors that also include public speaking, writing, business and personal guidance.

Harold's success and powerful understanding about life is evident in his collective published work including, Internal Power: Seven Doorways To Self Discovery, (White Fire 2008/New World Library 1993), Unconditional Love – An Unlimited Way of Being (White Fire 2007) Unconditional Love Is... Appreciating Aspects of Life, (White Fire 2010) Inspiring Unconditional Love – Reflections from the Heart (White Fire 2010), Inspiring Unconditional Love 2 – More Reflections from the Heart (White Fire 2011) and a PBS special entitled, Unconditional Love - A Guide to Personal Freedom (1997, DVD 2007) along with creating thousands of empowering quotes of love, numerous articles, and book chapter contributions.

In his continuing desire to touch the world with a message of love, he founded Global Love Day, in 2004 as an annual international celebration of humanity held each May 1. This yearly event brings the recognition of universal understandings and the transcendent power of unconditional love to a global audience including individuals, groups, organizations and leaders.

Harold's exceptional awareness of life comes from his enduring commitment to help uplift others. After his mother's diagnosis with cancer in 1985, Harold devoted much of his spare time interacting with cancer patients and their families and began to investigate the many meanings and understandings of life. (She continues to be a cancer survivor, having combined his insights and techniques with traditional treatment.) His continuous exploration of the underlying universal principles of life provides him with unique perspectives that can empower anyone.

A consciously, self-directed individual, Harold worked his way through college in management positions including banking, finance and retail and earned his MBA by age 25. His natural talent in the business field earned him high praise and respect by all involved. In a bold move, he left a management position in the banking industry to realize his dream, based on the premise that we all have the internal power to live life freely and joyfully.

Harold W. Becker lives a life of service, mindfulness, and unconditional love and always searches for the highest and best out of every experience. From his enriching and educational workshops, TV and radio interviews, numerous public appearances, post prison/ addiction outreach program, and community leadership roles, Harold's light-hearted approach conveys his message with the awareness of one who knows love.

For more information contact: John T. Goltz via email: jtgoltz@internalinsights.com Visit www.internalinsights.com and <a href="mailto:www.internalins